PRESIDENT AND CEO
UNITED WAY OF GREATER STARK COUNTY

Lessening the burden of poverty for children and families strengthens our entire community. United Way of Greater Stark County is here every day to ensure families have access to the support, resources, and opportunities they need to move forward.

This year has brought uncertainty and unexpected challenges for many. Yet, United Way remains a steady source of help and hope, supporting early childhood success, family stability, and the essential services our neighbors rely on.

Our supporters and advocates make this work possible, including members of the Alexis de Tocqueville Society, Leaders in Giving, the 1922 Society, and our generous Foundation and Corporate Partners. Your commitment ensures children can learn and grow into our future leaders, and families can build a more stable tomorrow. When they thrive, our community thrives with them.

Evelyn Eustathios, 1922 Society Member, with Terri Bate, Former Director of Philanthropy, United Way of Greater Stark County, circa 7 years ago

EVELYN EUSTATHIOS

UNITED WAY OF GREATER STARK COUNTY 1922 SOCIETY MEMBER

United Way of Greater Stark County is honored to recognize the life and legacy of Evelyn Eustathios, and the extraordinarily thoughtful estate gift she left to support our community.

Evelyn’s commitment to United Way was personal and deeply earned. In the 1960s, she served as a volunteer “regional worker,” canvassing neighborhoods and later local business districts from Cleveland Avenue to Market. She knocked on doors, asked strangers to join something bigger than themselves, and carried the conviction that philanthropy, even then, was built one neighbor at a time.

For Evelyn, giving was not transactional, it was identity.

Her United Way support was rooted in her own experience of being the one who once asked for help for others.

Raised locally, Evelyn attended Wells Elementary and Timken High School, graduating 3rd in her class of 400. She played the organ for her church, St. Haralambos, beginning at age 10 and later went on to commission the cross that hangs in that sanctuary today, one of the gifts she spoke of with real personal pride.

Evelyn built her home in 1967 and raised two daughters as a single mother. She worked hard, including into her mid-70s, and carried a lifetime of history, triumph, and resilience that showed up in her conversations, her stories, and the way she saw the world.

When United Way visited her in 2019, she expressed appreciation, not for charity, but for being seen.

She said she supported United Way because she knew people needed help and she wanted to “try to help where she could.”

She also shared that she had never before received a handwritten note or a personal visit from an organization she supported. That visit mattered to her enough that she invited a return visit on her screened-in porch.

Evelyn also quietly supported other local causes including the Salvation Army, the Foodbank, PBS, Ex-Newsboys, and more - the kind of instinctive giver who never sought recognition.

Today, her estate gift to United Way ensures that her spirit continues forward — helping families stabilize, helping children access opportunity, and helping neighborhoods grow stronger, long beyond her lifetime.

Her legacy is one of resilience, independence, perseverance, and generosity, and we are humbled to honor her story.

Thank you, Evelyn.
